People's Independent Representative Convention.

The People's Independent electors of the counties comprising the Fifty-Third Representative district of Nebraska are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held in Crawford, Nebraska, the 27th day of September, 1904, at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative for said district. The various counties comprising the district are entitled to representation as follows:
Box Butte 6, Sheridan 7, Dawes 8, Sioux 3.

Governor Mickey has no doubt a good, pious soul and very much opposed to dancing, except when the railroads furnish the music.

Nothing should attract your attention from state issues this year. No matter who is elected president, it will not lessen your taxes or correct the infamous revenue law.—O'Neill Frontier.

The tax payers of Nebraska do not relish having their assessed valuations raised over 100 per cent while railroads only 70 per cent. Just vote for Mickey and his gang and it will ever be thus.

David B. Hill has declared his intention to retire from politics after the election. It is our candid opinion that there are many politicians in Nebraska who will retire about that time. Hey, Mickey?

The Presidential Situation.

The following compilation of electoral votes as gathered by the best political authority gives a most encouraging forecast of the situation in the presidential campaign and the result will prove most encouraging from a democratic standpoint. The number of electoral votes required to win is 239 and according to the total of the votes given Judge Parker will have 249, or 10 more than the required number. Even the best authority of the republican party concede the vote as here given with the exception of New York and Indiana. In these states the enthusiasm for the democratic ticket has increased to such an extent that the alarm is given by the Republican national committee and to secure the votes of New York and Indiana will be the supreme effort of that organization. That the democrats have the best of the fight at this time can not be disputed. As given out the result is as follows:

Judge Parker's Letter.

Judge Parker's letter of acceptance has been the cause of national comment since its publication and it is received with the same spirit of approval that characterized his nomination. The tenure of the document has left no doubt as to the candidate's stand on all questions that are of paramount importance in the campaign, and in words that leave no doubt Judge Parker proves his democracy by taking a firm stand in their behalf. His able and fearless utterance on the questions of trusts and combines has made it clear that this element need not look for illegal protection in the event of democratic success at the polls next November. Judge Parker's letter of acceptance is an excellent illustration of safe and sane democracy.

Fears Roosevelt's Personality.

General Robert Avery, veteran of the Civil war, member of the Grand Army, one of the leaders of the Loyal Legion, and who has been a militant Republican since he cast his first vote in 1860 has announced that he would take the stump in favor of Judge Parker.

Explaining his determination to work for Parker, Gen. Avery said: "My chief reason is the fear of President Roosevelt's personality as a president. I think that a good many older men of the Republican party are opposed to his constant talk of war and the flourishing of the 'big stick' by the present administration. I do not know Judge Parker."

A Pleading Musical Recital.

Mae Shumway Enderly gave an eloquent and song recital at the Methodist church Wednesday evening which was heartily appreciated by the large audience present. The program rendered was one of merit and the hearty applause and encore proved conclusively that Mrs. Enderly had made a hit with her hearers. The recitalist has a full conception of what is required in her line of study and with her personal strength of character brings out every interesting point. Nature was also liberal to the lady in a musical sense. Possessing a sweet voice, which, like her literary education, has been well trained, she intersperses the program with songs. In the musical numbers Mrs. Enderly was ably assisted by Mrs. S. D. Cox who presided at the piano. The instrumental selections given by Mrs. Cox were greeted with hearty applause and she was compelled to render more than were on the program. Judging from the pleased expression on the faces of the people present it is evident that Mrs. Enderly has won many admirers and should she decide to again appear in Alliance doubtless a packed house will greet her. The Epworth League is to be congratulated upon securing such a pleasing program for the entertainment of our citizens.

James Sullenberger Injured.

The Laramie (Wyo.) Press has the following concerning an accident which befell J. M. Sullenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sullenberger of Marsland:

"J. M. Sullenberger, single and residing at Mrs. M. J. Hunter's on Fremont street, was brought to the city yesterday for medical treatment. He is a brakeman and was on top of his caboose at Dana at 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The jerking of the engine threw Mr. Sullenberger to the track from the top of the caboose, injuring his back and rendering him unconscious until he reached almost home. Dr. Stevens attended him upon the arrival of train No. 4 and had him taken to his rooms. He will be laid up for some time, although no bones were broken."

LATER—Mr. Sullenberger was taken to St. Anthony's hospital, Denver, where on more thorough examination it was found that one arm was broken.

A Wonderful Steer.

The following story is told here of the antics of a large steer which was being shipped enroute to Omaha one day this. A journal on the car in which the animal was being shipped became overheated to such an extent that a wheel came off letting the corner of the car drop almost to the track. This was too uncomfortable for Mr. Steer so he slips out the end door which had slid open and got down under the car and walked along with it on top of him until the trainmen were made aware of the accident to the train. THE HERALD does not vouch for the truth of the story.

To the People—Trade at Frohnepfel's where you get the most for your money. He has a new stock all the way through. Remember, he has no brothers in St. Louis to buy bankrupt and fire stocks. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Waisner and Mr. Waisner's mother went to the big show at St. Louis Monday. Mrs. Johnson sat up all night to get a glimpse of them as they went through. They will stay here some time later on their return trip.

THE HERALD editor misunderstood the paragraph in this column last week. If he will carefully read the paragraph again the meaning will become plain. First it stated what actually transpired. Then it was meant to direct a criticism at the regulations of the government which a majority of the ranchmen regard as ineffective. They think that the way to stamp out a disease is to stamp it out. It was not meant to score an individual for carrying out the orders of his department however unjust those orders might appear to be to those interested. It was meant to indicate dissatisfaction at such a ruling as was mentioned.

To the People—Trade at Frohnepfel's where you get the most for your money. He has a new stock all the way through. Remember, he has no brothers in St. Louis to buy bankrupt and fire stocks. Frohnepfel furnishes the potato trade with good flour, not an article shipped in for that trade. Frohnepfel pays you for every bushel of potatoes in your load. He will also give you a dollar's worth for every dollar purchase. Any bill you pay once you never have to pay the second time. He can and will do undertaking and sell furniture cheaper than it has ever been sold in Hemingford. I want your trade and will treat you right and treat you so you will be glad to stay with me.—Norbert Frohnepfel.

Conductor Grainger was arrested and fined Tuesday for keeping the crossings closed an unwarranted length of time. It is reported that he got off easy and with only a little loss of time. The train men have a hard time working for Jim Hill and it is probably hard work to get a train over the road. But with all that they ought not to hold the crossings as long as many trains do. A story is told of Supt. Phelan which bears closely on the subject we are discussing. There was a train crew arrested at Crawford according to the version told here on a charge similar to the foregoing. The conductor wired to the superintendent asking what he should do. Mr. Phelan is said to have answered: "If you are too lazy to cut the crossings pay your fine and go on." The story is very popular with the farmers illustrating as it does their contention as to why the crossings are so often closed.

Marsland was honored with a noted visitor a couple of days last week in the person of Lieut. Gov. McGilton. He is attorney for the Fuller & Johnson vehicle company and was looking after the matter of a car of buggies which were sent to this place over a year ago and which they never received any pay for.

There was considerable wonder and speculation last spring when our merchants took such an interest in the "Presbyterian potato patch." Day after day a fat and lean man could be seen wending their way over the hill to that tater patch. The mystery was solved Sunday night when the pastor delivered a very forceful sermon from the words "Owe no man anything, etc.," and the mutual exchange of labor seems to have had good results for on Monday morning a delinquent customer who owed 25 cents for a pair of socks, rushed to the store to—have the time extended.
